At the Cake Shop

Last Saturday, Matthew wanted to buy a birthday cake for his little sister, so he went to Sunshine Shopping Centre.

Matthew was looking at two cakes. One was a chocolate cake and the other one was a strawberry cake. The chocolate cake was one hundred dollars and the strawberry cake was eighty dollars.

He thought that the chocolate cake was more delicious than the strawberry cake. But the strawberry cake was cheaper than the chocolate cake. 'Which cake should I buy?' asked Matthew. He decided to buy the chocolate cake at last.

However, he could not find his wallet, so he was very worried. Then he ran back home and begged his mom, 'Give me a hundred dollars, please.' Mom said, 'OK! OK!' In the end, Matthew ran fast to Sunshine Shopping Centre and went to the cake shop to buy the chocolate cake. 'Nice!' said Matthew.

Susie said, 'I'd like tuna sandwiches and some cheese sandwiches for Dad,' Mum said, 'Great idea!'
