My Hobby

My hobby is swimming. I started my hobby when I was five.

I swim with my father, friends and my little brother. I go swimming on Sundays. I go swimming at the beach because it is fun.

I need a pair of swimming goggles for my hobby. I spend one hundred dollars on my hobby. I want my friends to play with me.

My Neighbour

When my neighbor, Emily was young, her favourite subject was Art. She liked playing hide-and-seek. She had tutorial class every week. She enjoyed her school life because she could make so many friends and gained so much knowledge.

There weren't any air-conditioners in her school. There was an English room in her school. There was a canteen in her school.

Everybody in her class played hide-and-seek and she liked playing that too. Everybody in her class played hopscotch and she seldom played that.

At the Cake Shop

Last Saturday, Matthew wanted to buy a cake. He went to a cake shop in Cheng Fu Shopping Centre to buy a birthday cake. It was his sister's birthday. They had a birthday party on that day.

He was looking at two cakes. One cake was a chocolate cake and the other one was a strawberry cake. The strawberry cake was $80 and the chocolate cake was $100. The chocolate cake was more expensive than the strawberry cake. The strawberry cake was cheaper than it but the chocolate cake was more delicious than the strawberry cake. He decided to buy the chocolate cake.

Matthew couldn't find the wallet in his pocket. He felt very unhappy and unlucky. He walked around and tried to find the wallet.

In the end, the police found Matthew's wallet and returned to him. He could buy the birthday cake to his sister. She was delighted.

Now and Then

When my teacher was in primary 4, her favourite subjects were English and Art because they were interesting and fun. She was good at them. She liked to draw and chat with her friends at school. She had many tutorial classes after school. She was busy but she enjoyed her school life very much.

There were air-conditioners in her school so she was glad. Also, there were a projector and a visualizer in every classroom. Her teachers always used them to teach. It was convenient. However, she had to share a computer with her friend during ICT lessons.

When my teacher was young, everybody in her class loved playing hide-and-seek and hopscotch. They liked running around. Nobody played game boys because they liked to play at the playground together.

I am luckier than my teacher because the facilities at school are newer and better now. I also enjoy playing game boys and video games.

At the Cake Shop

Last Saturday, Matthew wanted to buy a cake so he went to a cake shop to buy a birthday cake. It was his friend's birthday.

Matthew was looking at two cakes. They are a chocolate cake and a strawberry cake. A strawberry cake was eighty dollars. A chocolate cake was one hundred dollars.

Matthew thought the strawberry cake was cheaper but the chocolate cake was more delicious. He decided to buy both the chocolate cake and the strawberry cake.

He couldn't find his wallet so he could not buy the cakes. He had no money so he did not buy the cakes and he was worried.

He went home to find his wallet and went back to the cake shop to buy the chocolate cake and strawberry cake.

In the end, Matthew bought both the chocolate cake. Then he gave the chocolate cake and the strawberry cake to his friend. His friend ate them and said they were so yummy.

At the Supermarket

Last Monday, Susie and her mum were at the supermarket. They went there because they wanted to buy something. They felt happy.

Susie said, "I want to eat sandwiches." Mum asked, "Which sandwiches do you like, tuna fish sandwiches or cheese sandwiches? Susie said, "I'd like tuna fish sandwiches but Dad loves cheese sandwiches." Mum said, "Dad and Susie love different sandwiches. Let's buy both."

Then they wanted to buy apple juice next but they could not see any of it. Susie said, "We can't buy apple juice because it is out of stock." They felt very sad.

In the end, they felt unhappy because they could not buy apple juice. They went home unhappily.

When We Were Little

When I was five years old, I could do my homework by myself, but I could not go to school by myself because I was only a little girl and I was very scared so my mum went to school with me. I could comb my hair but I could not wash my hair by myself because I thought it was difficult so my dad helped me.

My friend Milton could help with the housework and clean the table when he was five. However, he could not get dressed by himself because he thought it was too difficult for him so his dad helped him.

My friend Shane could clean the table when he was five too, but he could not tie his shoelaces. He didn't know how to do it so his helper helped him instead.

My friend Elim could climb the stairs by himself when he was little but he could not do housework. He could not wash his clothes because he was too young so his helper helped him.

What could and couldn't you do when you were little?

At the Supermarket

Last Sunday morning, Susie and her mum were at the Wellcome Supermarket. They went there because they wanted to buy groceries and lunch. Mum was also holding a trolley while shopping. They felt delighted.

Susie asked, 'Can we have sandwiches for lunch?' Mum replied, 'Which would you like, cheese sandwiches or tuna sandwiches?'. Susie said, 'Well...Dad and I like different sandwiches. Dad likes cheese sandwiches, but I like tuna sandwiches.' Mum said, 'Oh! Then let's buy both sandwiches for lunch!'

Next, they wanted to buy apple juice so they went to the food shelf to get the apple juice. After they reached there, they saw that the apple juice was sold out. Susie said, 'Oh no! All the cartons of apple juice are sold out!' They felt upset.

In the end, Susie and Mum went back home and got some fresh apples. After washing the fresh apples, they squeezed them, and now they had some fresh apple juice! Dad, Susie and Mum enjoyed their healthy lunch.
