My Dream Job

I want to be a foodie when I grow up because I want to eat all the delicious food in the world.

If I become a foodie, I will tell everyone about the taste of all delicious food I eat. I think eating good food makes me happy whenever I feel sad. At I eat good food, my mood will be better. I will forget the sad things.

Foodies need to be imaginative so that they can think of different ways to describe the taste of food. Foodies need to be healthy so that they can fly to different countries to try the food from around the world. Foodies also need to be hard-working so that they can read books to learn more about food.

To make my dream come true, I have to study hard and keep learning about eating cultures and history, ingredients as well as cooking methods.

I will try my best to make my dream come true!

An Accident at Home

Last Sunday, Peter's mother was cooking some soup in the kitchen when the phone rang. At the same time, Peter was doing his homework in his bedroom.

Peter's mother put the boiling pot on the table and went out to answer the call. Peter felt hungry so he went into the kitchen to find some food. Suddenly he smelt something nice. He opened the lid of the pot and tried to use a spoon to eat some soup. But when he lifted the pot, the soup spilt out of the pot! He burnt his arm. 'Ouch! Mum! Mum! Help me!' shouted Peter. He felt a great pain. Peter's mum rushed into the kitchen and called an ambulance.

At last, Peter's dad got back and took Peter to the ambulance. The paramedics sent Peter to the hospital. Peter learnt that he should not go to the kitchen and use the pot by himself.

A Letter to the Principal

18th November, 2022

Dear Principal Lau,

We are writing because the charity club would like to help 'World Vision' to raise money for the poor children in Laos. We think our idea will help solve some problems for the children there.

Firstly, the children in Laos have no food to eat because it is too dry for them to grow food. They will starve and they may be sick or die if they do not eat anything. Secondly, the children cannot study because there are not enough schools. They do not have enough money to buy books and stationery. Therefore, they cannot learn every day. Thirdly, the children don't have enough money to rebuild their houses so they need to live in tiny huts or tents.

We can help them by doing a lot of charity works. Firstly, we can donate money to 'World Vision' so that the children can rebuild their houses. Secondly, we can collect old toys and send them to the children in Laos so that the children won't get bored. Thirdly, we can go on a charity work to raise a lot of money and ask our family and friends to sponsor us.

We hope you will be able to help us organize the charity events.

Yours sincerely,

Donald Ching and Samson Tang

An Accident at Home

One day, Peter and his mother were at home. Peter's mother was cooking in the kitchen. She was making some potato soup while Peter was playing the computer games in the living room.

Suddenly, the mobile phone rang. Then Peter's mother went out to answer the call. The pot was steaming hot. It looked like it was about to overflow.

Meanwhile Peter went to the kitchen and lifted the pot. Oh! The soup spilt out from the pot. He was in pain. His mother came in and asked what was going on!

Then his father called the ambulance. Ten minutes later, the ambulance arrived downstairs at their house. The paramedics took Peter to the hospital.

In the end, Peter stayed at the hospital for over one week!

Book Report

Title: The Emperor's New Clothes

Author: Hans Christian Andersen

Why did you choose the book?

I chose this book because this story is very interesting.

What is the book about?

The King was fooled by three swindlers. They weave an expensive garment that no one can see it. The emperor wears the new clothes to the market and shows it to everyone.

What did you like / dislike about the book?

This book is an interesting novel. I think the king is very stupid. The liars are very cunning and greedy. My favourite character is the King because he is rich. The story teaches us that we should do and observe everything by ourselves. We can't blindly trust others. At the same time, we must tell the truth and be honest.

What would you do if you were the characters?

If I were the King, I would ask the men to make clothes in front of me.

How Karen Spent Her Pocket Money

Yesterday, Karen received her pocket money from her mum at her home. Karen is going to buy food outside. She felt thrilled.

In the afternoon, Karen went to a busy street that was full of food stalls. She didn't know which food stall she could go. Luckily, Karen smelt some delicious food so she followed the mouth-watering smell that led her to a food stall. It was a stall selling fish balls. The hawker held a curry fish ball skewer and asked Karen, 'Which fish balls do you want to buy?' Karen pointed to the curry fish balls that she wanted to buy. She gave the hawker some money and bought the curry fish balls. She felt great.

Later, Karen went home and tried the delicious curry fish ball. Although it was very delicious to her, it was too spicy and unhealthy. She had a stomachache after few hours later. She was very painful. Her mum was worried about her.

Karen's mum asked, 'What's wrong?' Karen replied, 'I ate too many curry fish balls. They were too spicy.' Her mum said, 'You mustn't eat too much unhealthy food?' Mum then took her to a clinic and the doctor gave some medicine to Karen. Karen felt guilty. She learnt that she should buy healthy food instead of unhealthy food and she shouldn't buy food from hawkers in the future.
